LAW SOCIETY CALL FOR INPUT ON COMPLIANCE-BASED ENTITY REGULATION

A MESSAGE FROM ROSS F. EARNSHAW, CHAIR OF THE COMPLIANCE-BASED ENTITY REGULATION TASK FORCE

Dear Colleague,

The Law Society's Task Force on Compliance-Based Entity Regulation has launched a call for input and is seeking comments from lawyers, paralegals and others on options for a proactive approach to regulation. The Task Force has prepared a consultation paper that provides background information and sets out a series of issues and related questions for consideration and comment.

We are inviting your organization to respond to the call for input. We believe it is important to hear from the Law Society's stakeholders on an initiative focussing on an approach to proactive regulation intended to help lawyers and paralegals improve their practice standards and client service.

We request that you provide your submissions by March 31, 2016, by one of three methods:

1. Through our online form
2. Email to mdrent@lsuc.on.ca
3. Regular mail to:
